Short Description

Very rare with no handle version and original Catalin finial. My collection.

Description

This cocktail shaker was made by Farberware and it is the bubble or "Kitsch" as Mr. Visakay wrote in his awesome book. It is the rarer version with no handle or spout, the cap comes off to reveal the strainer for the pour. This has the original bakelite finial and when you do make a find like this the finial is usually missing or has been replaced with a painted wooden dowel, two extremely small, shallow dents. Almost perfect!
