Description

What a wonderful set!! This is ca 1930 Farberware. The set consists of a beautiful chrome cocktail shaker in a bubble shape, six matching glasses and an even rarer original tray. The matching black and red painted wooden handles on shaker and tray are very deco. The set is in magnificent shape and even includes the very rare original red bakelite finial!

This set was on loan to the Museum of the American Cocktail (MOTAC) from 2004 until January 2006. The Museum was located in The Pharmacy Museum in New Orleans. They were then moved to the new museum located at The Commanders Palace inside the Aladdin Hotel in Las Vegas until November 2006. It then went back to New Orleans inside the MOTAC at the Southern food and beverage museum until it found it's way home in 2018.
