Short Description

Small and rare. Strains through the mouth.

Description

Great looking and good condition. This is the very hard to find "Moonface" cocktail shaker with the maroon colored bakelite lid. Twist it one way to shake and twist the other way to open up the holes for pouring, the mouth serves as the strainer while the eyes allow air in for a smooth pour. It is nice and rare, has some chrome wear to the lid and the inside which is visible in the top and open pictures. Other than that very nice.
